TOHARI

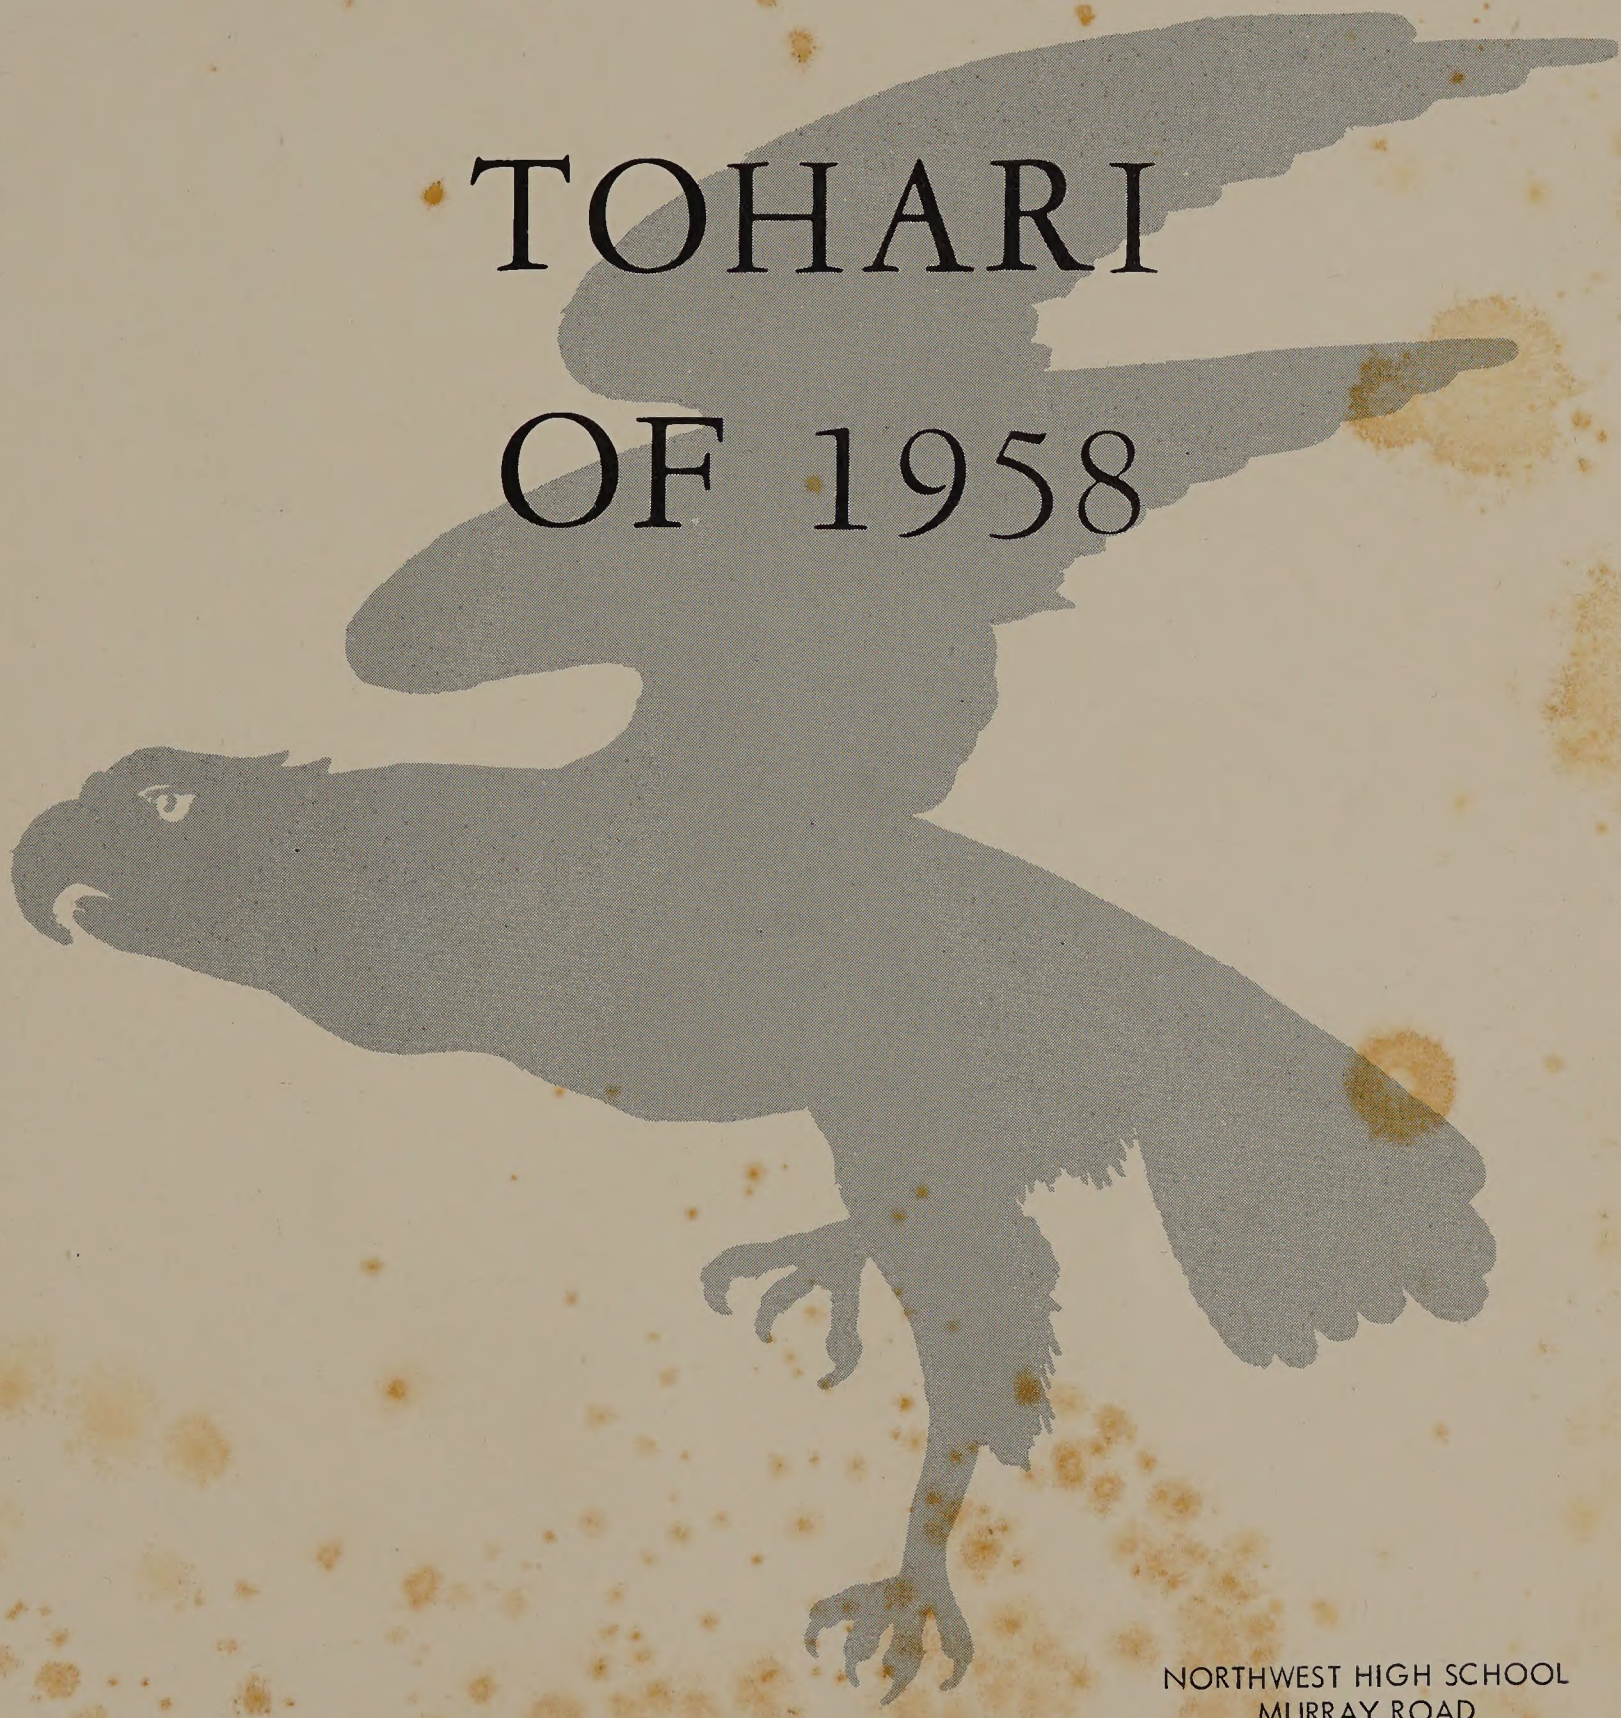
OF 1958



NORTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL
MURRAY ROAD
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

Foreword

Friendships precious, knowledge invaluable, happiness unmeasured abound in our high school story; and here in the pages of the 1958 TOHARI, our memories are gathered and stored to be treasured forever.

Dedication

"...for service"

We, the senior class of Northwest High School, dedicate this issue of the yearbook to MR. CHARLES JARVIS. He is a constant worker in his community, and his church; he is tireless and patient with the students of Northwest, both in class and outside the classroom.

He is known on the campus as a man to respect; a man whose guidance is firm but kind. The FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA CLUB is one of the fields of his most earnest endeavors; the members learn from him the dignity of hard work, the freedom of outdoor living, the beauty of everyday life; they enjoy a warm companionship with this mild-mannered man who devotes his time to the youth of Forsyth County.

The scope of his interest is wide and varied; his desire to understand interpret life is sincere. The students of Northwest, and the communities from which they come, appreciate Mr. Jarvis.

To such a man we proudly dedicate the 1958 Tohari.

CULOS MARION SETTLE

On Friday morning, April 26, math classes in room 203 went on as usual. The same camaraderie marked the relationship between teacher and student that always existed in that classroom. The same rapport between teacher and student prevailed that had always made classes pleasant there.

Shortly after the hour of noon, the Angel of Death entered there where none had ever dreamed of receiving him. Gently he laid his hand upon a heart that had never faltered in the stress of war; a heart that had gone gallantly and courageously into most of the realms of human experience; a heart that had given sympathy and love and laughter to a world that can never have enough of either; a heart that was tired, with a weariness that never showed, even to eyes that should have seen.

Culos Marion Settle lived on in the emergency room of a hospital until just a few minutes before the closing bell rang at Northwest. He experienced little pain, only discomfort. He remembered to say that someone else would have to go to Washington with the seniors. He remembered the boys and girls he had just met in his morning classes, and the ones he was not going to meet in the afternoon classes. He remembered to speak comfortingly to his wife. He thought little of himself. All his life he had thought little of himself and much of others. That was one of the characteristic that made him beloved by so many.

He was sternly just and always insisted upon work well done; and so we respected him. He was understanding, and quiet, and gentle; and so we loved him. He loved life and lived it with zest and with joy in simple things; and so we were friends.

Life goes on at Northwest; math classes meet; excuses are signed in the lobby; bells ring, and students hurry here and there. But something is missing that was very much a part of things for us; a new loneliness walks our crowded halls and stills our laughter in the familiar scenes. It shall always be so; not even time, the great healer, shall ever make us forget that "such things were that were most precious" to us.

And the World War II hero-pilot, who completed fifty-two successful war missions, has relinquished the controls to another Pilot--a Pilot he has long known and trusted. And a craft and its passenger have gone safely into the home field.

MRS. HELEN DAVIS PRATT

In a span of five short days, Death came twice to Northwest. On his second visit, Mrs. Pratt went away with him. He had walked beside her often in her life and was a familiar and trusted friend.

Mrs. Pratt was many things to us at Northwest, all of them good; but, above everything else, she exemplified to us the very spirit of courage. The least discerning among us knew that her frail body housed a soul that was strong and righteous and fearless. The poet who wrote of his "unconquerable soul" lacked it for himself but coined a phase which applied perfectly to Mrs. Pratt.

Life was not always kind to her; but she loved it anyway and faced it squarely, with a proud lift to her chin which nothing ever changed. Her heart was always humble, but the flags of her courage flew in victory over every field.

She understood the mysterious workings of the human heart, especially the heart of youth. She taught the ways of forgiveness and unending kindness, even as she herself practiced them.

The radiance of her spirit lingers across our lives with a sunset light that fades today, only to glow again tomorrow. And from sleep she wakes surely to glorious life, somewhere where there are children to love, and where there is work to do for others.

...bright colors play on the scene; and within the walls, friendships and happy memories grow in the minds and hearts of youth to be cherished forever.

Snow-time is fun-time!

These seniors are interested in something...maybe they're discussing their forth-coming trip to Washington...

"...with a silence deep and white."

...QUIET!!!
geniuses at work!

..." and the band played on."

...the lunchroom is the scene of the mid-day rush!

...now students' headaches begin.

...peace and quiet before the three o'clock bell rings.

A day's work is done and students are homeward bound.

KIND AND PATIENT HANDS TRIM THE WICK AND PUT FLAME TO THE TORCH.

The pattern is still building. We shall always build upon the foundation we have laid, and never know, or desire, completion. The torch by which we shall work is lighted and lifted high. Our hands that hold it are still reaching, still eager, still molding the clay into beauty and strength.

Class History

Looking back over our class history we think first of the most outstanding event of our high school career; that of entering Northwest High School. It was a wonderful, new experience getting to know all the students from the three schools which had been consolidated.

On the first day of our new adventure, we were assigned to our home rooms and got our schedules. Mrs. Byrnes, Mrs. Benton, Mr. Webster, and Mrs. Steelman were the sponsors for our sophomore class. We elected as our class officers Thomas Dalton, Linda Shelton, Nancy North and Elizabeth Kennedy.

Representing the sophomore class in Student Council were Linda Jarvis, Jane Robertson, Daisy Mae Pyrtle, James Poole, and David Hall. Ann Leinbach served as secretary.

Sports fans noticed several members of the sophomore class participating in football and basketball. Those boys making the football team were Miller Council, Eddie LeVan, Doug Utt, Bill Ray, and Ronnie Matthews.

David Hall, Daisy Mae Pyrtle, and Lynda Robinson represented our class on the boys' and girls' basketball teams.

Time passed very quickly and we found ourselves proud juniors. We anticipated a year of hard work preparing to give the seniors a banquet. To get things under way we elected Don Yarbrough, president; Linda Jarvis, vice-president; Neal Lineback, treasurer; and Melinda Smith, secretary. Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Speas, and Mrs. Johnson were our junior class sponsors. Under their leadership and that of our officers, we successfully sponsored a chicken pie supper and a fall festival as our projects.

Representing the junior class in Student Council were Daisy Mae Pyrtle, vice-president; David Hall, Linda Jarvis, Ann Leinbach, and Phyllis Davis.

Juniors leading the school in cheers were Ann Leinbach, Sally Weston, Mary Lee Long, and Melinda Smith.

Ronnie Boger, Mike Masencup, Miller Council, Bill Ray, Raymond Dyer, and Dallas Blakely represented the junior class on the football team.

The basketball teams had among its players Daisy Mae Pyrtle, Lynda Robinson, Shelby Isaacs, Mike Romaniw, David Hall, and Robert Styron.

A chapter of the National Honor Society was formed during our junior year. The juniors who were selected as members were Melinda Smith, Lynda Robinson, Ann Leinbach, Shirley Merritt, Jimmy Welborn, Annette Hartgrove, and Daisy Mae Pyrtle.

Junior marshals were Melinda Smith, Shirley Merritt, Wilma Sue Canter, Ann Leinbach, Daisy Pyrtle, Mary Ella Kiser, and Lynda Robinson.

The day finally came when our class rings arrived. We proudly showed them to all our friends.

After much work and anticipation, the long-awaited Junior-Senior Banquet took place at the Robert E. Lee Hotel. The theme was "Moonlight and Roses." That was the big event of our junior year.

We then stepped into the roll of dignified seniors.

Our senior sponsors are Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Byrne, and Mrs. Sutton. We elected as our officers Ronnie Boger, president; Ann Leinbach, vice-president; Melinda Smith, secretary; and Annette Hartgrove, treasurer.

We immediately started to work to raise money for our trip to Washington. Our enthusiasm and group participation made our projects a success.

Editor-in-chief of the Tohari, Melinda Smith along with her staff: Literary editor, Harold Cone; Business manager, David Hartgrove; Art editor, Benny Kiger; Sports editor, Phyllis Davis; Feature editor, Brenda Hill; worked hard to make this annual the best that has been published in Northwest's history.

Our class was again well represented in the field of sports. The cheerleaders had as their chief Ann Leinbach. Sally Weston, Mary Lee Long, and Ann Roberts were also members of the cheerleading squad.

Three seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society during their senior year. They were David Hall, Ronnie Boger, and Rose Marie Kimball.

The Student Council had at its head Daisy Mae Pyrtle, president. Members of the senior class who worked with her to make this a very good year were: Don Yarbrough, Ann Leinbach, Phyllis Davis.

We have had many happy and memorable times during our school years. Along with the memories of happiness are those of sadness and disappointment. Probably the saddest time is now when we realize that we will soon be leaving our school; but we will always rembember the guidance and inspiration that we received from the faculty and the school.

Last Will

ARTICLE I

We, the 1958 graduating class of Northwest High School, being of uncertain sanity and weakened body after having endured the miles of the cafeteria line and the musical notes of the telephone over the public address system, do hereby sign, seal, and secure this our last will and testament.

Section 1.

To Mr. Julian Gibson, our beloved principal, and to the faculty, who have been our kind and helpful advisors, we bequeath our sincere affection and gratitude.

Section 2.

To the present junior class we leave the responsibility of maintaining Northwest's honor and fame.

Section 3.

To the sophomore class we leave our many good times and good name.

Section 4.

To the freshman class we leave three more years of high school. Make the most of them, and they will be your happiest.

ARTICLE II

Individual Bequests:

MIKE ROMANIW and DIANE WOODWARD leave their southern accents to Jeannie Kauch and Maxine McCraney.

BILL RAY requests that Charles Kapps, on his many jaunts to Virginia, see that his farm is in good condition.

ROSE MARIE KIMBALL leaves to Jo Linda Yates her ability to look at the "rosy" side of everything.

SALLY WESTON leaves her homecoming crown to next year's queen.

MORRIS ROBERTSON, EDDIE LeVAN, WAYNE KIGER, and DON ED GRIFFIN leave their jokes and wise-cracks to Durward Smith, Larry Shouse, Davis Thompson, and Del Craft. To the faculty they leave extra patience and their deepest sympathy.

LINDA JARVIS and EDITH PATTERSON leave their artistic ability to Phyllis Leinbach and Linda Wells.

MICHAEL MASENCUP leaves his wide-awake and alert appearance to Marie Fulk.

SHIRLEY MERRITT wills her position as head of the senior class to Joan Foster.

PHIL SPAINHOUR leaves his assurance that short stature is not so bad to Joe Banner and Steve Barotta.

JANE ROBERTSON, MARY LEE LONG, POLLY NANCE, and BRENDA BUTNER leave their well-worn bookkeeping manuals to those juniors who will venture into this class for "future accountants." Be sure to take along with you some ink eradicator.

RONNIE MATTHEWS and TONY SPRINKLE leave their good nature and willingness to be of service to Frank Stith and Tim Powell.

ANN ROBERTS leaves her ability to get along with people to Ann Yarbrough.

DAISY MAE PYRTLE leaves her interest in school affairs to Linda Barr.

ANN LEINBACH leaves to next year's chief cheerleader the ability to make the microphone work during a pep rally. You simply blow into it!

SHELBY ISAACS leaves to June Beck her basketball techniques. You might try stepping on someone's toes--some folks say that it is quite effective.

MILLER COUNCIL and RONNIE BOGER will their positions as captains of the football team to next year's deserving boys.

MARGIE FULTON, MARTHA HILTON, SHIRLEY HAYDEN, MARIE SAPP, and BETTY STOLTZ leave their love charms and potions to deserving gals in the junior class. Good hunting, girls.

DON YARBROUGH, and NEAL LINEBACK reluctantly leave buses #132 and #136 to next year's drivers. We know Mr. Gibson will be somewhat relieved.

LYNDA WHITE, PHYLLIS PFAFF, LYNDA WESTMORELAND, DELAINE SPRINKLE, and PAT McCARTY leave their ability to get to their shorthand class 48 seconds before the tardy bell rings to all future secretaries. Watch that second set of stairs, friends, they could be deadly.

"PORKY" WILKINSON and JIMMY TALLY leave peace and quiet to the halls of Northwest High.

D. C. PETREE leaves the address of his French pen-pal to any French student interested in girls. Ooo-la-la!

To some unsuspecting student RAYMOND DYER leaves his ability to ask the wrong questions at the wrong time. (It would be better not to make use of this gift in Mrs. Newman's class.)

RICHARD SHOUSE leaves his good disposition to Tommy Flynt.

I, LYNDA ROBINSON, leave to someone the task of struggling through the writing of the next last will and testament.

We, the 1958 graduating class of Northwest High School affix hereto our seal on this day of May twenty-seventh, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred, fifty-eight.

Class Prophecy

Miami, Miami, here they are,
Don't you wish they were afar?
They stormed in with the breeze
Gambling, dancing--learning the "freeze."

We take you to downtown Miami Beach where it seems as if a hurricane has just come in from the middle Atlantic, but no--reports show that it is only the reunion of the class of 1958 from Northwest High School.

Suites at the "Cadillac," owned by DAVID BECK, who has been concentrating on the new drag strip being errected in his name, on the turnpike from Daytona to Miami Beach, are reserved, so kind-hearted Beck is sending patrons over to the "Chrysler" owned by JIMMY TALLY, "Chevrolet" by DEAN McGALLIARD, and "Buick" by EDDIE "Cocky" LeVAN. In the lobby of the "Buick" haircuts are only $5.50 and they are given by the expert hair stylists, MARGIE FULTON, WILMA CANTER, DELORES MERRITT, BETTY STOLTZ, and MARIE SAPP.

We wish to take our beanies off to LARRY CHOPLIN and JERRY DAVIS who make non-stop flights from all over the world to Miami Beach bringing this fortunate group together. Everyone has made it but RUBY GAYLE CARTNER, a missionary to Africa. It seems that Ruby had been trying to learn her French; she forgot her English and she has no way of getting a message through telling us how to locate her. So far, we haven't been able to find anyone who can translate French on bongo drums.

Most-likely to succeed, DAVID HARTGROVE, who was recently elected Mayor, is on hand to meet his old classmates. He was last seen setting up drinks at the Health-bar for the Orange Bowl...very near there one can see queenly contestants, SALLY WESTON, DIANE WOODWARD, JO ANN SHOUSE, LINDA SHELTON, GLENDA SPRINKLE, and LINDA JARVIS. The judges, MIKE MASENCUP, BARRY WILKINSON, BENNY KIGER, and HAROLD CONE, are looking forward to a week of excitement and fun. David has taken on a side-job as maintenance janitor to pay for the judges' drinks.

The crowd seems to be rushing to Romaniw's Rondevous, the big nightspot on Miami Beach. The fabulous MIKE ROMANIW isn't out to meet us because he has business in the back room. Lately, he has to supervise dealing since he hired "Double-deck Fletch," GERALD FLETCHER. Business, however, has picked up because of Gerald's sticky fingers.

If you prefer to watch the show you will be seated by headwaiter, CLIFTON BARBER and his efficient assistants, LINDA HARPE, MARY RUTH DINKINS, SYLVIA SMITH, PAULINE KURDIAN, DORIS DEES, LYNDA WHITE, and DOROTHY LAWSON.

One of LEON STYERS'S Greyhound buses has just arrived with a loan of patrons from the Needmore University, who are playing in the Orange Bowl Game. Leading the procession is JOE TUTTLE, who won the prize for the largest orange in the country, which will be used in the big game in lieu of a football. Joe received the trip by courtesy of RONNIE MATTHEWS, head of Stay-Fresh Cracker Company. The big boys who have come to enjoy one last "fling" are MILLER COUNCIL, RONNIE BOGER, DALLAS BLAKELY, and BILL RAY. Trainer, JIMMY WELBORN, has come along to pick up the tab.

Lights are turned down just as the floor show is about to begin. As the curtain goes up emcee, MORRIS ROBERTSON, is escorted to the stage by model, PAT McCARTY, who has flown down from New York City to be featured in the parade.

The famous all-girl combo, led and directed by DON YARBROUGH, are introduced; DAISY MAE PYRTLE, at the drum; ROSE KIMBALL, with the clarinet; KAYE CLANTON at the harp; BRENDA BUTNER, at the trombone; and POLLY NANCE at the trumpet. They are backed by PHYLLIS PFAFF at the bongoes; and JANE ROBERTSON at the record player.

The next big star to appear is Miss MELINDA "Melancholy" SMITH, who sings, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." RAYMOND DYER speaks up, "Oh, it's really only the steam from my coffee, don't worry."

Class Prophecy

LARRY PITTS is "popping his cap" about not being able to sell enough cokes because of the competition from the Health-Bar.

Next, Morris introduces the famous piano duet who have recently finished a tour through Russia. SHIRLEY MERRITT and D. C. PETREE play a medley of old German favorites.

Suddenly, a danger warning--but it isn't a hurricane, it's only a news report. Nurses are needed at Biscane Bay. LYNDA ROBINSON and ANNETTE HARTGROVE--Florence Nightingales of the South, jump up and leave their dates. It seems as if millionaires NEAL and LARRY LINEBACK have been trying to freeze the Bay to organize an ice hockey team. While practicing, they fell through the ice. Some of those seen trying to catch the money that fell from their pockets as they slipped into the "cool, cool water" were: LEON STYERS, IRA BOYLES, WAYNE KIGER, TONY SPRINKLE, JIMMY WHITE, and KENT ALLEN.

Back at the nightclub, emcee Morris is introducing celebrities who happen to be in the audience. First are RICHARD SHOUSE, JAMES POOLE, JERRY HARPE, and DAVID HALL. These boys are famous baseball players, even though they couldn't join the Yankees because of their Southern accents.

Next is multi-millionaire ROBERT STYRON, the famous international playboy. He flew in on his private plane just for this big reunion.

BRENDA HILL, leader and instructor of the Miami Rockettes, ANN ROBERTS, JANET HOLT, ANNE COX, MARY LEE LONG, ANITA CRAFT, MARTHA ANN HILTON, LYNDA WESTMORELAND, and DELAINE SPRINKLE, is back from one of her tours. Her girls are so terrific that they are "high stepping" into first position over the New York Rockettes.

A sigh goes up in the crowd as ANN LEINBACH, who is the only girl ever to graduate from Harvard University and who is still trying to get into Duke, passes out pamphlets on "How to Become A Success."

Suddenly, strikingly handsome playboy, PHIL SPAINHOUR, comes into the night club. Behind him is his world-renowned girls' basketball team. The members; SHIRLEY GILLEY HAYDEN, SHELBY ISAACS, MAE BELLE JOYCE, and MARY KISER take a seat at one of the tables. Phil tells us that his team is doing fine and his star player, DOT RING (4'9") is a national sensation. It seems Dot has a play in which she runs between everyone's legs and Phil finds this to be a great asset to his team. Phil's two assistants, JOHN KAPP and PHIL STYERS, tell us that they really enjoy their work.

Wait folks! There seems to be some excitement. A bulletin has been handed to me. DON ED GRIFFIN and CLIVE SCOTT have just tied for first place in the "Darlington 500." We should like to extend to them our congratulations.

EDITH PATTERSON, famous artist, is now painting everyone's portrait for a souvenir of this unforgettable reunion. Her model, BESSIE HOLLAND, is giving out some information and price-lists for anyone interested in some outside work of Edith's.

Everyone is really enjoying himself and having a grand time. Many of us are making plans to save money so we can return again.

To the class of '58
This news should not come late
In ten years, at least that soon,
We'll reunite upon the moon.

Your faithful and honest prophet
PHYLLIS DAVIS

With the tools of character, self-discipline and patience, we have worked and shaped the formless clay. The base is clear and well-defined, and the form of our dreams begins to rise upon the foundation.

Ann Yarbrough Boosts Offense

When Daisy Mae Pyrtle injured her knee and was ruled out for the season, Coach Marjorie Nifong of Northwest was afraid that her team's offense would really be shot.

But Ann Yarbrough, a 17-year-old junior, took over the scoring punch and since then has been averaging 19.6 points per game.

Ann had her best night Friday against Reidsville when she scored 36 points to lead the Falcons to a 62-50 win. It was the second victory for Northwest.

Ann was chosen player-of-the-week for her performance.

Ann comes by her basketball ability naturally. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Yarbrough, Shattalon Drive and her two older brothers, Richard and Reg, were stars for Old Town High.

Ann wasn't a starter when the season got under way. She broke into the first string lineup against Mount Airy and scored 16 points her first night.

Since then she has gained confidence in her ability to score and has become one of Northwest's top point-makers. She's 5-10 and helps to give Northwest needed height.

Runnerup in the voting was Linda Thomas of Griffith who led the Panther offense with 34 points in the win over Walkertown. Linda didn't get a chance to score at all Friday as the Griffith girls had an open date.

Rhonda Mendenhall led Mineral Springs' offense with 49 points in two games.

ANN YARBROUGH . . . leads Northwest win.

June Lauten had 52 points for Glenn against North Davidson.

Jean Clary, an excellent outside shot, led the Children's Home attack.

Gypsy Wilson and Jeanette Parham continue to be the one-two punch for Walkertown.

Petey Ingram led Kernersville's attack last week.

Marilou Martin had 24 points for Southwest though the Trojans lost to Central Davidson.

BASKETBALL PLAYERS OF THE WEEK.

DANNY BOWEN . . . named basketball player-of-the-week.

Basketball Never Ends For Bowen

By MARY GARBER
Staff Reporter

Some day Coach Charlie Giles of Northwest plans an experiment. He's going to bring either a cot or an easy chair into the gym, so he'll be comfortable. Then he's going to see how late Danny Bowen will stay practicing his shots if Giles doesn't end the workout by turning out the lights.

So far, that's the only method Giles has found to get the Northwest co-captain to quit practicing. Danny always wants to take "one more." Giles is of the opinion that he and Danny would still be at the gym when school started the next day.

That's one reason why Danny Bowen has such a dead-eye for the basket. Coach Jack Musten of Glenn calls him "the best shot I've seen." And Danny was the one who hit a last-minute outside shot to beat Glenn last week, 47-45. For his work against Glenn and Central Davidson, Danny has been chosen player-of-the-week.

He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Bowen, Route 1. He's a junior, 17 years old and so far as he's concerned basketball is the thing. He has been playing since he was a little fellow. It's never too early, too late, too hot or too cold for Danny to play basketball.

Danny even went to school one hot summer night and asked Principal Julian Gibson if he could go in the gym and shoot a few. Gibson said he could but to clear out by 10 p.m. Danny worked over two hours, stopped promptly at the last stroke of 10, turned out the lights, locked up and went home, probably wishing he had a lighted court of his own.

Managed Football Team

He took the job of managing the football team so he could run and stay in shape. When a bunch of youngsters decided they wanted some extra basketball drills, Danny took over the job of coaching.

"He's learned to keep his poise under pressure," said Coach Charlie Giles in talking of Bowen's improved play. "He's much better on defense and he has developed a variety of shots. I call him 'my old pro' now."

He and senior Dave Hall are the veterans and co-captains of the Northwest team.

Danny rates Mineral Springs as the best defensive club he's faced in two years of high school basketball. "Don Steelman (who graduated last year) always gave me trouble," he reported.

Falcon End Is Chosen Top Defensive Player

A lanky 6.3 end who loves defensive football helped to keep Northwest's winning streak going Friday night as the Falcons defeated Griffith, 20-0.

Fred Shore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shore, 1923 West Polo Road, won defensive player-of-the-week honors.

It's Fred's third year of football at Northwest. He hopes to go to college and would like to play college ball. If he keeps on growing he won't have to worry about the offers.

"He's a fine defensive player," says Coach Colon Nifong of Northwest. "He's one of the most improved players on the team and he has been a consistent performer all year.

Dave Cooke who works with the line said that Shore was "one of the best surprises we've had this season."

Last year, Shore got little chance to perform playing behind Gene Clanton, now a freshman at Clemson.

Fred couldn't pick any one back as tougher this year than any other but the best man he's played against is Jamie Wilkes, fullback for Mineral Springs last season.

Don Berrier of Kernersville was runner-up in the voting for his play against Southwest. "That boy's terrific defensively," said Coach Carl Clarke. "Red Hubbard did an outstanding job for us too."

Coach Red Wilson of Reynolds couldn't pick out an individual for the Demons in their win over Greensboro. "Our defense was a prime factor in the win," said Wilson, "but it was a case of gang tackling."

Tony Hayes and Don Miller led Gray's defensive play against Mount Airy. Miller won special recognition for he was replacing injured Jack Shore, doing his first stint as a starter.

FRED SHORE
. . leads Northwest defense . .

Carl Hunt's linebacking helped Children's Home in their win over Spencer.

Harold Ingram's defensive play topped the Hanes play at Reidsville.

Phil Smith's work won him honorable mention from Griffith.

Larry Pinson led Mineral Springs defense against Walkertown. And Bobby Sams topped the Glenn defense.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS OF THE WEEK.

Boger Sparkles For Northwest

By MARY GARBER
Staff Reporter

Southwest High's multiple-offense has been trouble all season for most of the Trojans' opponents. But Northwest threw a tight defense against them last Saturday and held Southwest to one yard rushing.

Northwest led the statistics but Southwest won the game, 7-6.

Key man in Northwest's aggressive defense was senior guard Ronnie Boger. Ronnie was chosen defensive player-of-the-week.

RONNIE BOGER . . . helps stop Southwest's multiple-offense.

He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Boger, 215 Endsley Avenue, and he has played four years of varsity football. He played end as a six-man player at Old Town but has been a guard three years at Northwest.

"We had more spirit Saturday night against Southwest than in any game this season," said Ronnie, recalling the close contest.

Boger's top sports thrill came last year against Southwest when he recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. Northwest won that game, 19-6.

Coach Colon Nifong of Northwest had a hard time deciding between the defensive play of Boger and tackle Miller Council.

"Ronnie has been one of our leaders all year," said Nifong. "He has called the defenses and done a good job with them. But in mid-season he had flu and didn't seem to be able to come back until Saturday. He really played up to his capabilities then."

Council, who is co-captain with Boger, also did an excellent defensive job to earn honorable mention.

...let's get on with the game.

Yes, there are clowns in every school.

..."wonder if we'll have any homework tonight? No-o-o-o, the week-end is coming up."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce annually presents an award to a youth between the ages of ten and seventeen who has been outstanding in service to his home, school, church, organizations, community, or an individual. You do not win this award by entering a contest, for the winner is not selected on the basis of what he may, or can, do in competition, but on what he has already done in all-around outstanding citizenship.

Tim Powell was the winner of the award in 1957. He was chosen from three students, who were representatives of other parts of the county, and justly so, for Tim serves as vice-president of the junior class; secretary of the Key Club. He has become an eagle scout and he works diligently with his scout troop. This year Tim, as always, has kept his grades in his school work well above average, and consequently was chosen to represent his class as a Junior Marshal.

Tim Powell has been a fine student and is of fine character; he is one who truly serves.
